

Get to know the verb GET in English

Meaning	Usage with get
receive	I got a promotion at work. I haven't got enough sleep. Which means that I didn't have enough hours of sleep or rest.
obtain	I finally got my driver's license. Now, I can drive like lightning! (meaning I obtained my driver's license) You can get what you want if you put your mind to it.
reach/arrive at a place	Excuse me. How can I get to the station from here? I usually get to the office by 8 am.
understand	I get it now. (it's like I just found the missing piece of the puzzle). He didn't laugh at the joke because he didn't get it. Sorry, I didn't get your name. I finally got what you were trying to say.
Go and fetch smth	Could you get me a glass of water when you go to the kitchen? I'm going to get my laptop from the other room. I sent my assistant to get some documents from the office.

earn	How much do you get per month in your new job? He's been trying to get more money by working overtime.
buy/purchase smth	I'm going to get a cup of coffee before work. She decided to get a new phone instead of repairing the old one.
answer the phone	Can you get the phone, I'm busy right now. I was in the middle of my work and couldn't get the call.
win smth	I got first place in the race, it's like I'm the champion of the world.
become	I got really sick while I was on holiday but now I'm feeling a lot better. I'm getting tired of cooking every day. She got angry when I told her the news.
persuade/convince someone to do smth	I got my mum to buy me a new toy. I had to get my boss to approve the project.
Prepare for smth	I need to get ready for my meeting. She is getting the house ready for the party.
exercise	I'm going to get a workout in before breakfast. He's getting in some extra training before the competition.
do	I'm going to get my work done before the deadline. I need to get my laundry done before tonight.